- 1 beautiful but not very good at chess.
- 2 not very beautiful but good at chess.
- 3 beautiful and good at chess.

b Read the article again and mark the sentences T (true), F (false), or DS (doesn't say).

- 1 The International Chess Federation wants chess to have a more modern image.
- 2 Alexandra never wears glasses.
- 3 Alexandra's father taught her to play chess.
- 4 She became a grandmaster after playing chess for five years.
- 5 She thinks that chess should be more popular.
- 6 If you have Internet access, you can play chess with Alexandra.
- 7 Nigel Short has an attractive personality.

17-year-old Alexandra Kosteniuk is sometimes called the Anna Kournikova of the chess world. The International Chess Federation have asked her to be the new face of the game, which traditionally has had an image of middle-aged men wearing glasses.

Alexandra started playing chess when she was five. She learnt to play from her father, and became a grandmaster when she was only 14. Experts say that her game is one of the most exciting they have seen for a long time.

'Chess is not as popular as it should be, and I think I could help it,' Kosteniuk said last week. 'It is an honour for me to be described as the face of the game.' She has her own website with pictures, poems, and the opportunity to play chess against her.

Making the game faster is another part of the campaign to make chess more popular. There are now strict time limits for making moves. Games that before lasted for hours can now take place in five minutes. The longest international tournament games, which sometimes took days, now last only four to seven hours.

Nigel Short, the British grandmaster, says, 'There are a lot of attractive women in chess, but Alexandra Kosteniuk has made a very big impression. She is obviously very talented. Any sport needs attractive personalities, and I have no problem with marketing the game through her.'

Read this text about David Beckham. Choose the right words from the list (A-L) below to complete the sentences. Write the letters in the boxes. There is an extra word that you do not need. There is an example (0) for you.

HERO WHO FELL TO EARTH

Like many women, I have never been interested (0) football, but I have the highest regard (1) David Beckham. He is handsome, talented and a devoted family man. Most of us think he is Mr Wonderful. I admire him because he (2) to be an example of all that could be good in the opposite sex. He allows us to believe in the fantasy of love. He is (3), strong, disciplined and faithful to his children and wife.

What I (4) hard to understand is his wife, Victoria, leaving Beckham on (5) own in Madrid. Beckham had no family or friends around him there, he didn't speak Spanish. I have never (6) Victoria and although she is unattractive Becks appears to love and honour her. Becks (7) patient, tolerant and always ready to defend her. Posh has a strange way of showing that she (8) Beckham back.

Everybody makes (9) Becks is not a bad guy. If he lost his honesty because of Rebecca Loos, he should be forgiven. We have to (10) Victoria too for not moving to Madrid.

General revision

Look at the letter from Claudia, a student in England, to her friend Julie. There are 32 gaps. After some gaps there is a verb in brackets. Put the verb in the correct tense.

Example: Last week I visited (visit) Liverpool.

When there is no verb in brackets, write one suitable word – a preposition, an adverb, an auxiliary verb, an article, etc.

Example: I came to York to learn English.

Dear Julie,

I (1) _____ (arrive) in England three days (2) _____.

I (3) _____ (stay) with a family in a suburb of York. They're really nice. Mr Jones (4) _____ (work) in York. Mrs Jones has just had a baby, so she (5) _____ (not work) at the moment. I (6) _____ (not ask) her what she does yet, but I (7) _____ (think) she's (8) _____ accountant.

I (9) _____ (have) a good time here, (10) _____ everything is very expensive. Yesterday I (11) _____ (take) the train (12) _____ York to do some sightseeing. Something really embarrassing happened (13) _____ I was there. After I (14) _____ (visit) the Viking Museum, I (15) _____ (decide) to do some shopping. Earlier in the day, I (16) _____ (see) a beautiful sweater in a department store, so I (17) _____ (go) back (18) _____ (buy) it. The shop assistant (19) _____ (put) it into a bag when I realized that I (20) _____ (forget) my purse with my credit cards! So, unfortunately, I couldn't buy (21) _____ after all.
